The Easing of Covid Restrictions – Advice for Parishes

The recent announcements by the civil authorities easing the Covid-19 restrictions are very welcome. However, the Omicron variant is still a threat and so we, in our parishes, must remain alert. Parishes should observe the following recommendations:

- Social distancing measures in our churches may now be removed.
- Congregations should continue to wear face masks in church.
- Congregations should continue to sanitize their hands on entering the churches.
- The reintroduction of Altar Servers should be deferred for the time being.
- The use of collection baskets is still discouraged.
- The bringing of Offertory gifts to the Altar is also discouraged.
- The Sign of Peace should not take place during the Mass.
- The current procedures for the distribution of Holy Communion remain in place.
- The placing of Holy Water in fonts at the doors of the churches is still discouraged.
- Ash Wednesday – Details of the distribution of ashes to be announced at weekend Masses.

As the situation develops, these guidelines will be revised accordingly.
