While this move is greatly welcomed, and is indeed evidence of what people power can achieve, we need everyone to understand this is NOT a DONE DEAL...we need to continue our campaign to have EGS re-instated for the safety and wellbeing of our entire area. SOAS are hosting a meeting on Tuesday August 5th at 7.30pm in THE WESTVILLE HOTEL in Enniskillen to update you on what we need to progress the situation. We urge you all to come out in support of YOUR hospital and its vital services.

The minors season finished up last week, we thank the players, Rory Reilly and Danny Keenan for their efforts all year.

Club Developments: Anyone who has been at the club grounds in the past week will have noticed the new seating in the stand, the latest part of our ongoing development work. Thanks to everyone who helped bring this to fruition. The club have also invested in a robot mower recently and we would ask people using the pitches to clear any items off the field when leaving.

All Ireland tickets: The club draw winners were Karol Maguire, James Drumm, John Doherty and Fia Boyle.

Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

3rd August 2025

To whom will all this wealth of yours go?

Life does not consist in the abundance of one's possessions

This Sunday's scripture asks three things of us: to make prudent use of the gifts given us; to keep our focus on the true riches that are to come rather than on the transitory wealth of this earthly life; and so, to want and to choose whatever leads to God's life deepening in us.

The Preacher of the First Reading, by exploring the vanity of earthly endeavours, calls us to remember God in all we do.

The Preacher of the Gospel (Jesus himself), tells of the parable of the rich man laying up treasure for himself in barns. He demonstrates the folly of accumulating wealth for wealth's sake.

The Psalms reminds us that we ourselves are transitory and, like grass, come and go in the blink of an eye. But in the Lord, our refuge from generation to generation, do we find our true meaning.

Therefore, St Paul, in the Second Reading, encourages us to put away all that is not of Christ in favour of a Christ-centred life. Then Christ will be all in all.

As Pilgrims of Hope in this Jubilee year, let's continue to pray that we might be agents of the return of misappropriated wealth and riches, so that all might benefit from the generous bounty of God.
